

Global Support

Where can you find support for your business to export or import within the Greater Lincolnshire and Rutland Region?

Do you have big dreams of taking your business overseas but have no idea where to start?

There are local support services available to help you. This exporting and importing support helps businesses like yours to successfully start trading in new marketplaces around the world and find ideal locations where your products and services are in demand. If you're ready to increase your revenue and make a name for your business across the globe, read on to find out more about what support you can access to help you go from local to global.

DBT Local Advice

Dale Atkins and Sarah Dudley are the local International Trade Advisers for the Department for Business and Trade (DBT). Their role is to help businesses explore and access support for exporting, serving as the gateway to the many national support services DBT offers. If you are interested in DBT services, contact them via email at dale.atkins@businessandtrade.gov.uk or sarah.dudley@businessandtrade.gov.uk.
